ing on arrangements for world series games at the Waldorf Hotel in New York City.

The commission decided that the first two games of the series between the Boston Red Sox and the Dodgers will be played in the Hub City on Saturday, October 7, and Monday, October 9. The third and fourth games will be played in Brooklyn on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 10 and 11. The fifth game will be played the following day at Boston, while the sixth game will be played in Brooklyn Friday, October 13. Should a seventh game be necessary, the owners of the contending teams will toss a coin for the naming of the city where the contest will be held.

The games will start at 2 p. m. daily. In case of a tie, the postponed game will be played on the day after the tie.

The official scorers will be J. G. Taylor Spink, of St. Louis, for the National Commission, and a sport writer from each of the towns.

The representatives of the National Commission will be William Harridge, representing the American League, and Le Roy Reeves, representing the National League.

The players eligible to compete are as follows: Red Sox—Agnew, Barry, Cady, Foster, Gainer, Gardner, Gregg, Henriksen, Hoblitzel, Hooper, Janvrin, Jones, Leonard, Lewis, Mays, Mower, Olson, O'Mara, Pfeffer, Rucker, Smith, Stengel, Wheat and Robinson.

Dodgers—Appleton, Cuthaway, Combs, Cheney, Daubert, Dell, Gie, Johnston, Myers, Maltz, Meyers, Merkle, Marquard, Mower, Mowrey, Olson, O'Mara, Pfeffer, Rucker, Smith, Stengel, Wheat and Robinson.

The meeting of the commission was attended by President Johnson of the American League, President Tener of the National League, J. J. Lannin, president of the Boston American League club; C. H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyn Club, and W. F. Baker, of the Philadelphia National League. At the time the meeting convened the result of the National League pennant race was still uncertain, and arrangements to cover a possible victory by the Philadelphia club were also made. These, of course, go into the discard.

Instead of tossing a coin, as in former years, to decide where the first games of the series should be played, the commission accepted the proposal of President Lannin that the opening be held in Boston, owing to the great seating capacity of the National League field, which the American League has obtained for the series. It was also pointed out that several days will be required for the Brooklyn management to erect overflow stands and that playing the first two games at Boston would be to the benefit of the Brooklyn club.

Braves Land Two.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 3.—Boston helped Brooklyn clinch the National League pennant today by beating the Phillies twice. The scores were 5 to 3 and 5 to 1. Bad errors after two were out in the seventh gave the Braves five runs and the first game.

With runners on third and second and two out, Stock fumbled. Philadelphia's grounder. Doubles by Konechey and Mace and errors by Byrne and Pasquet followed. The Phillies made eight hits off Rudolph, Pasquet smacking a homer in the fifth.

The Phillies continued their poor play in the second, Boston winning with ease. Nineteen thousand persons saw the pastime. Scores:

First game: R.H.E. Boston.....000000510-4 11 2 Philadelphia.....000110010-3 8 4 Batteries—Rudolph and Gowdy and Blackburn; Rixey, Mayer, Kautheiser, Geschger and Killifer. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

Dodgers Trim Giants.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The Brooklyn club won the pennant in the National League by defeating the Giants today, 9 to 5, while Philadelphia, the contender, was losing a double-header to the Braves. The game was a heavy-hitting affair in which three pitchers were knocked out of the box. After giving the Giants a three-run lead, Sherrod Smith, the southpaw, was relieved by Ed Pfeffer, who pitched the fourth inning and the latter was effective. Score:

Carrigan Says Red Sox Are More Fit to Win World's Title Than They Were Last Year

By BILL CARRIGAN.

Boston, Oct. 3.—Boston will make short work of the National League winners for the world's championship. My men are playing baseball of the highest order, and are in better shape now than at this time last year. The pitching staff is going great, as was shown by the manner in which they held down the Detroiters as well as the heavy hitting Chicago swatters. Dutch Leonard probably will hurl the opening game for the world's series for us. Leonard has been pitching an excellent brand of baseball of late, and for this reason I expect to see him down the representatives of the National League in the first encounter. Babe Ruth is another who has come through, and Ruth will get a chance in the title series. The loss of Speaker, of course, will be keenly felt, but Walker, Hooper and Lewis have been playing good ball and hitting well. Boston will win the world's title again—just put that down in your book.

Boston Red Sox Picked to Repeat as World's Champs

By JOHN A. DUGAN.

The world series is here. Although the competing clubs will not do battle today, the fans throughout the country are pondering over the old dogs book to make their selection of the probable winner.

After making a close study of the ability of both teams and weighing over the statistics of the fielding, batting and pitching of the two league teams, it looks like the Boston Red Sox, pennant winners in the American League, will repeat again in the big classic.

The Boston Red Sox have proven their worth under the toughest kind of fighting conditions this season. Their recent tour of the West meant a fight every inch of the distance, and the Carrigans came through with flying colors when they eliminated Hughes Jennings' Detroit Tigers for the race in the American circuit.

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers have not the batting strength of the Red Sox and do not come up to the Hub City crew in fielding. The Boston machine is in perfect running order and has been for the past few weeks. Although the Sox will no doubt miss the services of Jack Barry, the infield has been going like a clock recently and young Janvrin is filling the bill in great shape. Bill Carrigan has put the real fighting spirit into his followers, in spite of the handicap imposed upon him last spring by the loss of Tris Speaker.

The machine-like consistency of the Red Sox pitchers has done more to keep the champions going right during the last half of the year's race than anything else. Even with the two best men in the infield out of the game during the last few weeks, the Carrigans have been winning with almost as much consistency as they did with their star in the game.

The catching staff is one of the best in the league. Cady, Thomas and Manager Bill Carrigan have done more to keep the Red Sox in the lead than any other staff. Babe Ruth, Dutch Leonard, Carl Mays, Ernie Shore and Foster have already proven their worth in a world series, while the infield and outfield are sluggers with the willow and are great combinations at the art of gathering in the pile.

The Brooklins have a strong staff of pitchers also. Cheney has come back to life in fine shape, and so has Jack Coombs. Pfeffer, Smith, Marquard and Dandridge are good, so that they can give the Red Sox a real battle in the big series.

It is in the hitting department that the Dodgers are weak. Manager Robinson has taught his men to run the bases in good shape, but against a team like the Red Sox, the Brooklins will not be able to get on bases unless they start a batting clip that will be a real surprise. Ruth, Shore, Mays and Leonard, the four standbys of the Boston pitching staff, will be able to keep the Dodgers from getting hold of the ball often enough to make it dangerous.

The Brooklyn catching department will not compare with the Boston backstop department. Meyers and Miller are not to be compared with Thomas and Cady as hitters. The Boston catchers are as good in the pinches as any other member of their team. Chief Meyers was once a dangerous batter, but he is slow on the bases that is not considered dangerous any more, and Miller is not as good a batter as he is.

The following tables show where the clubs have finished in their respective leagues before the issue was settled this season:

POOCH DONOVAN NAMED HARVARD TRACK COACH

Boston, Mass., Oct. 3.—Harvard's famous trainer, "Pooch" Donovan, was made head coach of the Harvard track team at a meeting of the graduate track committee. He will have charge of all the track men during the fall and spring, and also see that the field event men are getting proper care. The Harvard track men have been practicing all week, and will continue to practice during the fall until cold weather drives them indoors.

Gladstone Granger and Ty Cobb are battling all the way for the lead among the American League runners.

SHORT GRASS IN RUSH WINS LAUREL FEATURE

Emil Herz's Entry Puts Up Great Stretch Run and Lands Handicap.

By GEORGE B. MORRIS.

Laurel, Md., Oct. 3.—Another record-breaking crowd witnessed the running of an excellent program at the Maryland State Fair this afternoon. Weather conditions were ideal for racing, and those who were in attendance thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon's sport.

Society folk from Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York packed the clubhouse, and it was a beautiful sight to look upon.

That the track is the fastest in the country there can be no doubt, as Emil Herz's imported Short Grass ran a mile in 1:28.5, which is a remarkable feat, especially on a new track. This he accomplished by the fact that Leochares stepped six furlongs in 1:21.5 without an effort on Monday, and was only galloping at the end. Had he been extended he would have been in a bad way.

Horses ran to form today, five out of seven being returned the winners. That Emil Herz has in Short Grass perhaps the best stretch runner in the country was shown today in the fourth race, a handicap at one mile. The Herz gelding trailed his field to the stretch turn by five lengths, and when once straightened out for home he moved his opposition down one by one until he caught the leaders right at the wire. All through the stretch run for home Short Grass was taking two strides to the other horses one. His performance shows him to be a handicap horse of exceptionally high class, and a horse that runs the mile in 1:28.5 is a performer. He is about as consistent a performer as there is on the turf today, and is perhaps one of the most popular horses in the country.

Short Grass is entered in several stakes at the Laurel meeting, and he will be a good horse to remember when he is in any race of a mile or more. He prefers a longer route as he never gets going until straightened out for home. The first number on the card, a selling race at one-half furlongs, was won by Kathryn Gray, an outsider in the betting. Glorine was well thought of and carried a large commission, but the best she could do was to finish second, a neck in front of Blue Grass Belle. Chatterbox showed the way for the next quarter, but was not equal to the occasion and finished in the rear. The winner was entered to be sold for $1,100 and was bid to $1,400, and was bought in by "Wigwag."

The following event, a six-furlong affair, was captured by Thesler, who just lasted long enough to beat Presumption by a nose, while Blue Cap, an outsider, was third. The winner ran an excellent race and was forced to give up in the last stride under punishment. In the defeat of Samuel Ross' Ultimatum, in the third race, was a distinct shock to his followers, as he looked upon as the probable winner before the contest was run. But the public overlooked the fact that the winner, Arnold, has been a very consistent performer, and under a snug ride by Jimmie Butwell, he showed the best length in front of the field, ably ridden by the Canadian, "Whirlwind" Robinson, who in turn was a length in front of Gloomy Gus. The latter ran a good race and is well worth remembering in this next attempt. Ultimatum, badly after going half a mile and was eased up at the finish.

Emil Herz came again in the fifth race with Plumose, and was an easy winner over Pluquette and Tantiy. Pluquette ran an excellent race and was forced to give up in the last stride under punishment. Tantiy was used up chasing the winner, and looked as though she was fat and big.

Ambrose accounted for the sixth race handily, while Eddie T. won the nightcap. The Laurel management is to be congratulated on the perfect police protection afforded its patrons by the Pinkerton Detective Agency, under the able management of Capt. C. E. Duhan, perhaps the best-known detective in the country, and whom the underestimates give a wide berth. He "ably assisted" during this meeting by a force of men from Baltimore and other cities.

Many believe the keepers are only placed in the stable to keep out the objectionable classes, but their duties are manifold in so much as the proper traffic regulations and parking of automobiles at the races and their protection from the heat of the sun. In the recent Saratoga meeting, where the avenues of approach are wide and extensive, Capt. Duhan instituted the modern traffic light system to eliminate all possible dangers of patrons entering the track.

Over 2,000 machines were handled without the slightest delay. Summaries:

AS WE PREDICTED—

Bill Carrigan Copped the American League Pennant

—and we are certainly copping the tailoring trade of the dressy chaps this season. The best suits that the money can buy is the reason—a very simple reason when you come to think of it.

Have you seen our fall line of woollens?

Have you seen the sanitary, perfectly equipped workrooms right on the premises where all OMOHUNDRO garments are made from start to finish, under the personal supervision of the proprietor—and where you can watch them in the process of making?

Do you know that OMOHUNDRO employs only the most skilled UNION LABOR?

Are you familiar with the OMOHUNDRO guarantee?

Do you know that here your clothes are made just as you want them?

Let's make one another's acquaintance. If it doesn't last a lifetime we'll refund your money.

No matter whether your price is $20, $25, $30, $35 or $40

—we will give you more for your money in fabric, fit and finish than you ever obtained elsewhere at the price at any local tailor's.
